Dear Sir Robert-

I wonder if you have seen the circular sent out by the Prisoners of War Society to the Churches in Ontario. I enclose one for your inspection. The response has not been as large as we hoped, & we wished to obtain your approval for the following appeal. We thought that if circulars could be given to the students in the different faculties before the Easter and ask to lay interest the Clergy in these collections. I do not know if Lieutenant Douglas would be willing to address them but if he is I feel sure they

My dear Mrs. McPhedran:

The only way in which I think the circulars for the Prisoners of War Society can really reach the students at present is through their various societies. They are now busy for examinations, and Convocation Hall has been closed for the rest of the winter and I do not think it would be possible to have a public meeting which would be at all representative. However, if you will send me some of the circulars I will have them distributed through the Y.M.C.A. and the Women's organizations as generally as possible.

I hope that you are keeping better and remain, with kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Sir Robert:

The beautiful little ceremony we now observe of reading the names of those of our graduates & undergraduates who have fallen in the service of Chess Comfy is much knocking-

Last Friday, fillers as I was with the thought of many conversations dating back to 1868, it struck me as a matter of surprise that no reference is ever made to those Professors who have passed away since we left them. Yet all seem fresh before. Yet all seem fresh before. Said I to myself gratefully that those who, like the Professors, have been identified with the University - for many years should, when they leave us, carry for us clean

Dear Mrs. McPhedran:

In the absence of Sir Robert Falconer in Ottawa I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter and to say that the practice is to mention the members of the staff who have passed away at the address to the students in October at the beginning of the academic year. I am sending a copy of the address of the President given last October which was published in "The Monthly" and in which mention was made of your brother. Also in the President's Annual Report a copy of which I am enclosing you will see that permanent record is made of the services and contributions of the members of the staff whose memory we now hold so dear.

Yours very truly,

President's Secretary.
